Finding Diverse Voices
a Teacher Workshop

September 22, 2016 • 6:30–8:30 PM

This K–12 educator workshop will focus on the diversity of literature recognized as part of the Américas Book Award. The workshop will feature the work of Alma Flor Ada who will discuss the use of her books for teaching about Cuba, as well as presentations by the 2016 Américas Award winners.

For more information, please email clasppprograms@gmail.com.

The workshop is sponsored by the Consortium for Latin American Studies Programs and Teaching for Change. The award is coordinated by Vanderbilt University Center for Latin American Studies and Tulane University Stone Center for Latin American Studies. Generous support is also provided by Florida International University, Stanford University, University of Florida, University of New Mexico, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and the University of Utah.

REGISTER ONLINE AT HTTP://STONECENTER.TULANE.EDU

Mulebone • 2121 14th St, NW • Washington, D.C.

Artwork adapted from Echo by Pam Muñoz Ryan